Craddockstown School

School Profile

Craddockstown School

Establishment, patronage and governance

In 2023, the Department of Education (DE) granted patronage of a new special school in County Kildare to Kildare and Wicklow Education and Training Board (KWETB). KWETB looks forward to working with all the stakeholders to build a school that meets the needs of our students, their parents and the wider school community.

Craddockstown School, Co. Wicklow is a Special School which will provide an appropriate education for students, aged 4 to 18 years old, who have a diagnosis of autism and complex learning needs or complex learning needs, with a professional recommendation for a Special School and who require the support of a Special School setting.

The student must have reached 4 years on or before 31st August of the school academic year for which they seek enrolment. To facilitate this age band, the range of classes extend from primary to post primary and are based on relevant and appropriate peer groupings and the individual needs of each child. As per the Department of Education regulations, students will leave school at the end of the school year in which they reach the age of 18 years old.

The school operates within the regulations as outlined by the Rules for National Schools and relevant circulars and directives issued by the Primary/Special Education sections of the Department of Education. The school is funded by grants from the Department of Education. Staffing allocations are in line with those set out by the Department of Education.

Under the direction of KWETB, the school will be managed on an interim basis by a Single Manager pending the appointment of a Board of Management. The Board of Management is made up of representatives of KWETB, parents, school staff and the community.

Craddockstown School delivers the curriculum as prescribed by the Department of Education and adapted to meet the educational needs of each student. A variety of methodologies and strategies are adopted to maximise the students' learning potential. Supported by the child's multidisciplinary team. The teachers and staff provide a caring, motivating and supportive learning environment which fosters personal, social and academic development. All students have an Individual Educational Plan designed specifically for them.

Forging meaningful relationships with the students, their parent(s)/guardian(s) and all involved in their care and education, is essential to ensuring a quality educational experience for our learners. KWETB looks forward to opening Craddockstown School and welcoming students in the 2024/2025 academic year.

Location

The new school will be located on an interim basis in a shared campus with Naas Community National School. While a permanent site is not yet identified for the school, the Department will be engaging with the patron regarding permanent accommodation for the school in due course.

Capacity and Resources

It is intended that the new school will cater for an initial enrolment of up to 24 students. The school is expected to grow its capacity in the short to medium term, pending a new permanent school building being provided on a permanent site. The school will be supported by the necessary staffing and resources provided by the Department to new special schools. The National Council for Special Education (NCSE) will also liaise closely with KWETB and the school to ensure that a requisite training and support programme is developed and tailored to the needs of the new school community. The NCSE will also liaise with NEPS and the Department's Inspectorate in this regard.

Ethos and Characteristic Spirit

Craddockstown School is a state, multid denominational, co-educational school underpinned by the core values of:

- Excellence in Education
- Care
- Equality
- Respect
- Community

In Craddockstown School, all students are given equal opportunity for enrolment in line with the Education (Admissions to School) Act 2018. Once enrolled, Craddockstown School will strive to provide all students with equal opportunities to engage in learning and in school life. All members of our school community are treated equally, regardless of their race, gender, religion/belief, age, family status, civil status, membership of the Traveller community, sexual orientation, ability or socio-economic status.

Craddockstown School will seek to provide a safe physical and social environment that reinforces a sense of belonging to the school community and wider society. It strives to enable every student to realise their full potential regardless of any aspect of their identity or background. Schools under the patronage of KWETB seek to promote a fully inclusive education that recognises the plurality of identities, beliefs and values held by students, parents/guardians and staff. Students of all religions and beliefs are treated equally. The school environment and activities do not privilege any group over another whilst at the same time acknowledging and facilitating students of all religions and beliefs.

Craddockstown School, like all KWETB schools, aspires to be a place where everyone is encouraged to feel a sense of belonging and ownership. The school will actively seek to promote an ethos that supports a safe, caring and welcoming environment, where all members of the school community are valued and are treated with respect and dignity. Craddockstown School seeks to ensure that all members of the school community work in partnership. Having the best interests of our students is at the heart of all we do.

Curriculum

Craddockstown School delivers the curriculum for Special Schools as prescribed by the Department of Education and adapted to meet the educational needs of each student. A variety of methodologies and strategies are adopted to maximise the students' learning potential. Supported by the child's multidisciplinary team, the teachers and staff provide a caring and challenging learning environment which fosters personal, social and academic development.

Participation in the School

While it is envisaged that, once admitted, most students will remain in Craddockstown School until they complete their education at 18 years of age, a child's ongoing participation is contingent upon the child's continued adherence to the Code of Behaviour. The policy of the school is to admit students whose Parent(s) / Guardians(s) confirm that the Code of Behaviour is acceptable to them and that they shall make all reasonable efforts to ensure that their child complies with the Code of Behaviour. Where possible, students are expected to participate in all aspects of the school curriculum. The Single Manager/Board of Management places Parent(s) / Guardian(s) as responsible for ensuring that their child co-operates with these policies in a reasonable manner.

Changing and evolving student needs

Some students' needs may change over time and exceed what the school can cater for. If at any point during the student's time in the school, a psychiatrist or psychologist assesses the child and confirms in writing that allowing the child to remain in the school may result in adverse educational outcomes for the child or other children, a review meeting with the class teacher, principal and clinical team will be held to consider the child's progression and continued participation in the school.

Where the principal/Board of Management deems that further resources are required to meet the child's needs, an application will be submitted to the Special Education Needs Organiser (SENO) supported by relevant professional report(s). These resources may include access to or the provision of any of the following: special needs assistance, specialised equipment or furniture, transport services or other. Parent(s) / Guardians(s) will need to complete relevant NCSE documentation to enable the school to apply for such resources.

Job Description

Administrative Deputy Principal

Craddockstown School

Post summary

The overall responsibility of the deputy principal is to assist the principal in the management of the school.
