Section 1: Introduction

The details in the following handbook describe Kildare and Wicklow ETB's (KWETB) overarching approach and quality policies and procedures. KWETB Single Quality Assurance Framework for Policies and Procedures are based within three main headings: Core Policies and Procedures (green section), Support Policies and Procedures (blue section), Management and Corporate Policies and Procedures (yellow section).

Each of the three headings are divided into Policy areas. Each Policy area is then subdivided into relevant procedures. Each of the subdivided sections contain KWETB's Purpose, Scope, Preamble, Procedure, link to other Policies and Procedures and relevant resources.

As Policies and Procedures are developed, they are submitted to the QA Sub-group for approval and recommendation to the Quality Council. Once approved, all QA documentation will be uploaded to QA SharePoint and Quality Assurance sections of the KWETB website.

It is noted that this is a cyclical process, it involves ongoing cycle of continuous improvement, as new Policies and Procedures are developed, reviewed and approved they will supersede the existing Policies and Procedures which are currently available.

Where Policies and Procedures have yet to be developed, learners, KWETB staff and stakeholders should refer to legacy QA agreements.

This work will lead to the publication of KWETB's Single Quality Assurance Framework for FET Provision and FET Provision Second Providers. The development of specific policies and procedures is an ongoing process.

Purpose

The purpose of this procedure is to detail how KWETB programmes are regularly reviewed to ensure that the details, standards, content and assessment criteria are fit for purpose and adhere to current regulations.

Scope

This procedure applies to all FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. There is an integrated single policy, with procedures for FET Provision and FET Provision Second-Providers.

Preamble

This procedure covers the process for an overarching review of the prospectus and for individual review of specific programmes. A need for review of specific programmes may be triggered, for example by:

- A local request from a specific centre
- Issues raised during the Internal Verification and External Authentication processes
- Evidence regarding demand or decline in demand for the programme

- Changes in the occupational field for which learners are being prepared.

Proposals can be made at Centre level, by the Quality Team, or by the FET Management Team.

This procedure is designed to:

- Inform decisions about the range of KWETB awards and validated programmes and location of programme delivery
- Inform changes and updates to existing validated programmes
- Detail how gaps are identified in the KWETB prospectus of programmes for FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers
- Enable determination and strategic planning of new programmes to be developed and validated

Where it is identified by a Programme Review that there is a requirement for a new programme leading to a QQI award or non QQI award, then a new programme validation application must be made to QQI/awarding body separately.

This procedure sets out the steps to be followed in order to generate the review process.

A requesting centre must complete an application through the KWETB Approval Hub and give a detailed rationale supporting their ability to run this programme including staffing capacity and staff qualification. Approval will only be given if the requesting centre can meet all requirements.

The request will be reviewed by the Quality Team who may request further information, and the completed application will be evaluated by the Programme Governance sub-group. Following approval by the Programme Governance sub-group, the decision will be recommended to the Quality Council for approval.

Procedure – 1.1.4 Local Delivery of Validated Programme

1	The designated person with responsibility for programme validation should circulate a Programme Approval and Validation Schedule to all stakeholders which should set out timelines for the submission of applications and dates of Programme Governance sub-group meetings at the beginning of the academic year. The Schedule should include clear timelines for submission of request, noting times for submission, further information requests which should enable submission to Programme Governance sub-group two weeks prior to their meeting. The designated person with responsibility for programme validation should issue reminders of deadline dates to stakeholders ahead of deadline dates for submission of applications.
2	The Programme Co-ordinator should propose changes to local delivery to their Line Manager at area planning stage prior to formal application through Approval Hub.
3	The Programme Co-ordinator should complete the application for the change request in the Approval Hub setting out detailed rationale which should match the criteria for approval. All relevant documentation should be uploaded.
4	The designated person with responsibility for programme validation should review the application, check for accuracy and request additional information if necessary.
5	The designated person with responsibility for programme validation should forward the application and supporting documentation to the secretary of the Programme Governance Sub-group. All documents should be received two weeks ahead of the Programme Governance sub-group meeting.
6	The Programme Governance sub-group should review the application prior to meeting.
7	The Co-ordinator or nominee who is making the application can be invited to the Programme Governance sub-group meeting to discuss their application and answer any relevant questions.

8	The Programme Governance sub-group should discuss the application, it should be either accepted, declined or referred for further information.
9	If additional information is required, the designated person with responsibility for programme validation should liaise with the Programme Co-ordinator and upload relevant documentation.
10	If approved, the Programme Governance sub-group Chair or nominee should recommend approval to the Quality Council.
11	The Director of Further Education and Training or nominated person should sign off on the approval.
12	The designated person with responsibility for programme validation should notify QQI or the awarding body of the approved change request.

Preamble

The term 'work placement' includes:

- Work Experience
- Work Placement
- Work-based learning
- Simulated experience

In KWETB, work placement is perceived as an integral part of the learning experience whether integrated during programme delivery or provided at the end of the learner's engagement with a programme. Work Placement gives learners opportunities to try out their new and developing skills in the workplace, and learn from that experience.

KWETB personnel are responsible for ensuring that the quality of the experience is high, and that learners develop skills that can be assessed as part of their programme. The establishment of positive working relationships with employers is critical to the success of placements for learners.

Procedure – 1.2.2 Work Placement

1	The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that all work placement documentation is collated and filed in a single location. The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that this documentation is accessible to relevant personnel. The Programme Co-ordinator should create a file for each learner documenting work placements including associated legal and formal documents.
2	The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that all documentation, including insurance documentation, relevant to work placement is reviewed and updated prior to commencement of either the year, or the programme.
3	The Programme Co-ordinator and the teaching team should devise a timeline and plan for work placement for the duration of the programme or course ensuring that the plan for work placement is integrated with the centre calendar.

5	The Programme Co-ordinator and the teaching team should engage strategically with employers to devise work placement plans and programmes, for example, identifying the best time of the year for students to participate in placement.
6	The teaching team should review programme descriptors to identify the most appropriate types of placements for the field in question prior to giving information to learners.
7	All staff with responsibility for work placement should ensure that plans for work experience are designed so that placements align correctly with the requirements of the programme descriptor.
8	All staff with responsibility for work placement should ensure that they liaise with the employer to discuss current module descriptor learning outcomes.
9	The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that employers are appraised of their responsibilities in relation to assessment of learners. These include, for example: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Providing evidence of insurance cover for the student who will be on site. • Identification of a staff member who will act as a supervisor and liaison contact with the centre/college. • Providing the learner with appropriate ID and PPE where applicable • Providing assurances regarding health and safety in their workplace
10	All staff with responsibility for work placement should review relevant documentation and be fully aware of the requirements for informing learners of work placement requirements and for organising work placements.

11	All staff with responsibility for work placement should ensure that information sessions are provided for learners to describe the purpose and intent of work placement. All staff with responsibility for work placement should ensure that learners are informed of their responsibilities in relation to work experience and of the centre/school supports available to them to ensure a positive experience.
12	All staff with responsibility for work placement should support learners to seek work placements and should work with learners to identify the key areas for development that can be achieved and assessed during the placement.
13	The Learning Practitioner responsible for work placement should make an appointment with the employer or supervisor either by phone, online or in person, to discuss the learner's performance against the agreed goals. The Learning Practitioner responsible for work placement should debrief the learners following their work placement.

Purpose

The purpose of this procedure is to detail how KWETB provides an integrated balanced assessment design and development which accommodates quality assurance while supporting worthwhile learning.

Scope

This procedure applies to FET provision.

Preamble

The design and development of assessment traditionally focuses on measurement and results. Assessment should aim to improve the quality of student learning as it is an integral part of the learning process.

Learning Practitioner can engage in PD opportunities in assessment design and have access to the Further Education Support Service's (FESS) calendar of PD events. To support new Learning Practitioners, a micro learning platform is available which includes a unit on Devising Assessment.

For Further Education programmes, Common Award System assessment briefs are locally devised. Within FET Provision – Second Providers, assessment briefs are centrally devised, and Assessment Specification Instruments are used. FET Provision – Second Providers also operates using non QQI awards. Many of these non-QQI awards are developed by the awarding body.

Principles of Assessment

Validity:	The instruments for assessment are valid for assessing learner evidence.
Reliability:	Assessment should produce comparable marks across time, methods and Learning Practitioners. Various contexts can make this challenging. Reliable assessment design is fit for purpose.
Effective:	Assessment has a grading function and a learning function. Assessment design must support effective learning.
Comparable and consistent:	Ensuring quality standards and fairness in summative assessments.
Equitable:	Assessment provides equal opportunities for learners to effectively demonstrated learning. This includes providing reasonable accommodations where these are requested and approved.
Practicable:	The assessment techniques are suitable to the learning outcome(s) and the correct resources and facilities are available to ensure fair and consistent conduct of assessment.
Transparent:	Guidance on, and rules of assessment should be clear, accurate, consistent and accessible to all learners and Learning Practitioners e.g.: identifying learning outcomes, assessment criteria, marking schemes, policies on extensions and extenuating circumstances are all in place and available.

Attributable: Assessment design should detect and prevent assessment malpractice, collusion and plagiarism.

Procedure – 1.3.1 Development and Design of Assessment

1	The Learning Practitioner should review the assessment information and details in the relevant programme descriptor and review the learning outcomes.
2	Where possible, the Learning Practitioner should carry out a collaborative process with other Learning Practitioners to identify whether it may be possible to develop an integrated assessment.
3	The Learning Practitioner should draft assessment instruments.
4	The Learning Practitioner should draft assessment instruments. The assessment brief should be designed to allow the learner to appropriately make use of a wide range of media in presenting assessment evidence. The Learning Practitioner should devise a marking scheme.
5	The Learning Practitioner should create/update the Local Devised Assessment per assessment period. The same assessment instruments should not be continually used from assessment period to assessment period.
6	The Learning Practitioner should issue a draft copy of the Local Devised Assessment to the Centre Co-ordinator for review and filing. Exams and back-up exams should also be issued in advance to the Centre Co-ordinator.
7	The Learning Practitioner should present the learner with an Assessment Brief which should include component details, timelines, instructions, assessment criteria and guidelines.
8	The Centre Co-ordinator should file all assessment material in a secure location either digitally or in hard copy.
9	If selected for External Authentication, the Co-ordinator should ensure that the assessment instrument and marking scheme is made available to the External Authenticator.

Purpose

The purpose of this procedure is to detail how KWETB ensures that assessment provides learners with fair and equitable opportunities to demonstrate their learning in response to assessment.

Scope

This procedure applies to all FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. There is an integrated single policy, with integrated procedures for FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers.

Preamble

KWETB make every effort to ensure that learners are not unnecessarily overburdened with and stressed by assessment events at any one time. Learning Practitioners are encouraged to collaborate to integrate assessment where possible, using rubrics to distinguish between the specific assessment for the specific components or modules.

This will be achieved through assessment planning at centre level. Within centres/colleges, assessment will be planned to fit well with other scheduled activities and key external timelines. Assessment planning provides sufficient opportunity for learners to generate evidence and demonstrate achievement of standards, knowledge, skill and competence.

Learners will be informed of all requirements for assessment in a timely fashion. They will receive accurate and clear information about assessment. Assessment briefs and examination instruments will be prepared and reviewed in advance of the assessment instances and will be updated frequently to ensure currency.

Assessments are conducted under appropriate conditions; the technique being applied; the instrument in question and the requirements of the programme descriptor or module being delivered.

Learning Practitioners are responsible for informing learners about their responsibilities regarding assessment. Learning Practitioners are responsible for supporting learners for whom assessment is new, or for whom assessment is a challenge, ensuring that they understand how to compile a portfolio of evidence.

Procedure – 1.3.3 Planning, Conducting and Concluding Assessment

Planning assessment:
1	The Learning Practitioner should familiarise themselves with the programme and module descriptor including the learning outcomes they are delivering. In FET Provision, the Learning Practitioner should prepare assessment instruments, marking schemes and sample answers. New Learning Practitioners should familiarise themselves with the Module Descriptor and also from the perspective of a Subject Matter Expert in their discipline with regard to new developments i.e. legislation, techniques, work practices etc. The Learning Practitioner should consider the Indicative Content as a guideline only. In FET Provision-Second Providers centrally devised assessments will be issued by TSO.
2	In FET Provision the Learning Practitioner should submit draft assessment schedule to the Co-ordinator, identifying the stages at which assessment will take place. In FET Provision-Second Providers, the Programme Manager should submit the F01 to the TSO.
3	In FET Provision the Co-ordinator should review the draft assessment schedules and create an overall award assessment schedule ensuring appropriate management of the assessment burden for the learner. The assessment schedule should include the dates on which: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Assessment instruments will be submitted to the Co-ordinator; • Assessment will be carried out; • Feedback and provisional results will be issued to learners; • Submission of final marks.

	In FET Provision-Second Providers, the Programme Manager should submit the F11 requests to the TSO requesting assessment no later than ten days prior to the scheduled assessment (including time/date and number of papers required). The TSO populates the assessment calendar and issues assessment as per the dates requested.
4	In FET Provision, the Learning Practitioner should submit assessment briefs, examination papers and back up papers, together with marking schemes and sample completed examinations to the Co-ordinator for filing.
5	The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that invigilators, where appropriate are assigned for examinations and briefs them clearly about their responsibilities, informing them of when they are timetabled to invigilate.
6	The Programme Co-ordinator should appropriately communicate the assessment schedule to the learner. It should be ensured that the communication method(s) used are appropriate to the needs of the learner. The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that Learning Practitioners are sufficiently well-informed to respond to learner queries about timeframes for assessment.
7	The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that the assessment schedule is published to all staff and learners and is available through centre/college communication channels. Key dates are included in centre/college calendars.
8	The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that assessment protocols are clearly explained to learners in good time.

Conducting assessment:
1	The Learning Practitioner should ensure that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> the learner is informed of assessment criteria in a timely fashion; the assessment criteria are explained learners understand the relationship between learning and assessment.
2	The Learning Practitioner should introduce learners to, and explain marking schemes to them.
3	The Learning Practitioner should review assessment briefs with learners, providing rationale; explaining requirements for presentation of the completed evidence; giving pointers for the approach to be taken by learners, and operational information, such as explanation of word counts, font size or timelines if appropriate.

4	Where assessment is taking place in a specific location or at a specific time, such as a skills demonstration or examination, the Learning Practitioner should inform learners of what to expect on the day, and of what is expected of them.
5	The Learning Practitioner should ensure that learners understand and know about their responsibilities as a learner for assessment, including observance of submission dates; assessment malpractice policy (including plagiarism and citation) and arrangements for learners to seek compassionate consideration and reasonable accommodations.
6	The Learning Practitioner should ensure that the environment and locations for on-site assessment are suitable and arranged in advance of the assessment instance. This includes ensuring that a room with enough seating, space and appropriate equipment are set up in advance.
7	The Learning Practitioner should ensure that the environment where the assessment (including examinations) is carried out is in a quiet location, where external noise is not going to represent a distraction. The Learning Practitioner should ensure other distractions are minimised.
8	The Learning Practitioner should check that all audio-visual equipment and other technical equipment is checked in advance of the assessment event. The Learning Practitioner should carry out health and safety checks in advance of assessment.
9	The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that there is a filing and naming convention in place to ensure that audio-visual evidence is easily tracked and discoverable for review by the Learning Practitioner, the Internal Verifier(s) and the External Authenticator. To reduce GDPR risks and loss or corruption of video or audio files, KWETB strongly recommends the use of cloud storage. This approach also reduces the workload and time when managing storage and sharing of files. KWETB support cloud-based video sharing platforms i.e. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Microsoft Flip • Microsoft Stream • You Tube USB keys and/or external hard drive devices should not be used to store learner evidence. Photographs, video or audio should be recorded on either a KWETB managed device or learners may record evidence on their own personal device and submit for

	assessment in the same way they would with a traditional file tile, for example, a Word document. The Learning Practitioner should not take photographs, video or audio recordings of learners on their own personal device.
10	For FET provision, the Co-ordinator should assign a neutral invigilator and timetabled for examinations. This is not applicable to practical examinations.
11	In the case of examinations, the Learning Practitioner should ensure that a file of documents is compiled including the assessment attendance register; door notice; correct number of examination papers; replacement examination papers for use in the case of events that compromise the primary papers; clear guidance on mobile phones, use of dictionaries and IT equipment. The Learning Practitioner should ensure that a defined, safe repository for learner personal possessions is provided. An accurate and visible clock should be provided in the room.
12	The Learning Practitioner/Invigilator should brief the learners on expectations for the duration of the examination. The Learning Practitioner/Invigilator should observe correct protocol for distribution and collection of examination papers.
13	The Learning Practitioner should ensure that assessment evidence is stored securely in accordance with KWETB procedure following the assessment event.

Concluding Assessment:

1	The Learning Practitioner should mark the assessment evidence submitted by learners following receipt of evidence from all learners. Timelines should be decided based at local level decision.
2	When marking, the Learning Practitioner should use a pen (not a pencil) or word review to add comments to the evidence that clearly identify where the learner adhered to the criteria or not. Marks can also be annotated to specific points that align with the brief/examination paper.
3	The Learning Practitioner should complete a marking sheet for each learner.
4	The Learning Practitioner should complete an objective feedback sheet for each learner.
5	The Learning Practitioner should submit provisional results to the Programme Co-ordinator.

6	The Learning Practitioner should issue provisional results to learners together with information regarding internal appeals.
7	The Programme Co-ordinator should set a date for internal provisional appeals. The Learning Practitioner and the Programme Co-ordinator should meet with the learner appealing to discuss the outcome of the assessment.
8	The Programme Co-ordinator should upload the results to the QBS/RCCRS and evidence should be prepared to be made available for Internal Verification and External Authentication.
9	The Internal Verifier carries out Internal Verification, and where issues are identified, these are addressed and recorded. There may be instances where evidence must be withdrawn and submitted in a future cycle. All details are recorded, and issues are addressed and recorded in a timely fashion. Where there are withdrawals, the Learning Practitioner/ Programme Co-ordinator should inform learners promptly of the withdrawal and inform of arrangements to address the issue.
10	The designated person with responsibility for QA authentication / TSO should ensure that External Authentication is carried out and issues addressed if necessary. The designated person with responsibility for QA authentication / TSO should ensure that External Authentication Reports and results are submitted to the Results Approval Panel.
11	The Results Approval Panel should consider the submitted results, and following the meeting, approved results are notified and submitted to QQI/RCCRS for the issuing of certification. For FET Provision-Second Providers, SOLAS return QBS upload file to TSO for upload to QBS.
12	The Programme Co-ordinator should inform learners of the outcome of assessment and are informed of their right to appeal.

1.3.5 Adapting Assessment

Procedure code and title:	1.3.5 Adapting Assessment
Policy area:	1.3 Assessment of Learners
Version Number:	1
Reviewed by:	Quality Assurance Sub-Group
Date approved by Quality Council:	27 th June 2023
Date of Implementation:	1 st January 2024
Review Date:

Purpose

The purpose of this procedure is to ensure that all learners are enabled to produce assessment evidence that is relevant to the learning outcomes being assessed without being inadvertently affected by specific barriers. Learners will be enabled to participate in authentic assessment that is aligned with their learning goals. It is the responsibility of KWETB personnel to adapt assessment where learners apply for reasonable accommodations in respect of a specific instance of assessment.

Scope

This procedure applies to all FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. There is an integrated single policy, with integrated procedures for FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers.

Preamble

More broadly, KWETB will apply the principles of Universal Design for Learning (UDL) to the design of assessment to ensure that learners will have opportunities to participate in authentic assessment. These principles cover the why, what and how of learning, and ensure that assessment is a constructive part of learning. The principles are:

- Multiple means of engagement
- Multiple means of representation
- Multiple means of action and expression

Specific adaptations to assessment instruments.

Specific adaptations can be made to assessment in order to meet the needs of individual learners, in response to an individual application for reasonable accommodation, and recognising that the learner is the person best equipped to articulate their needs in respect of the assessment. In some cases, a single application for reasonable accommodation may span a number of assessment instances. The learner should not be exposed to excessive and time-consuming form filling in order to avail an adaptation to assessment.

In making decisions to adapt assessment, the standard to be attained must not be compromised in any way, in order to maintain the principles of fairness, validity and reliability of assessment. The method by which the learner produces evidence is adapted.

Examples of adaptations to assessment include, but are not limited to,

- Provision of rest breaks
- Split sessions/increased number of shorter sittings
- Provision of additional time to complete the assessment
- Readers
- Writers or scribes
- Sign language interpreters
- Overwriting
- Provision of computers or other assistive technology
- Audio recording
- Provision of a braille machine
- Enlarged print
- Adjusted background colours
- Separate rooms

It is recommended that contingency plans for adaptation are in place in advance of the assessment period, that these are routinely embedded in centre or school planning, with key responsibilities for implementation, and are reviewed periodically.

Assessment may also be adapted for a complete cohort of candidates due to force majeure. Instances of force majeure are not covered in this procedure.

Procedure – 1.3.5 Adapting Assessment

1	The Programme Co-ordinator should review the application for Reasonable Accommodation and meet with the learner to determine the best course of action. There should be clear communication around the assessment to determine why it needs to be adapted, consideration of how it will still meet learning objectives of the awarding body and outline of how best to adapt an assessment, who will devise it and what channels it needs to go through to be approved for use. The Programme Co-ordinator should consider the impact of the change in relation to timetables, learners, Learning Practitioners and approval of how the facilitation of the changed assessment event will occur.
---	--

2	The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that GDPR policy and principles are always applied.
3	The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that they document the justification for the adaptation.
4	The Programme Co-ordinator should decide how best to adapt the assessment or circumstances while ensuring that the standard for the assessment is not compromised.
5	The Programme Co-ordinator should document the decision regarding adaptation and inform the learner of the decision.
6	The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that they act based on the decision. For example, if a reader or scribe is required, the Programme Co-ordinator should engage these services in accordance with good practice. The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that such personnel are equipped with the knowledge and skills to carry out their assigned task while upholding the principles of assessment. The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that if changes to the mode of assessment are required, these are drafted and approved as being of the same standard as the instrument being administered to other learners. The adaptation should facilitate the learner to demonstrate their achievement of the learning outcomes of the assessment without altering the standard of the award. The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that if additional space is required, an additional invigilator is engaged.
7	If necessary, the Programme Co-ordinator should ensure they seek and document the approval of the awarding body to make the adaptation.
8	The Programme Co-ordinator should inform the learner of the adaptation made, and of any specific logistic arrangements to be applied – e.g., change of venue, presence of a scribe. The Programme Co-ordinator should explain how learning objectives will be addressed; weighting of assessment; clear guidelines about the assessment event and prior notice; expectation of evidence required and deadlines to be met.
9	The Programme Co-ordinator should inform the Internal Verifier and External Authenticators of adaptations made.
10	The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that copies of all documentation are retained and that records are maintained effectively.

5	For FET provision, the Learning Practitioner should devise a rubric to be used for marking of assessment. Rubrics help clarify the expectations for learner performance.
6	For FET Provision, at levels 1, 2 and 3, although not usually marked numerically, the Learning Practitioner should devise and apply assessment criteria.
7	If a borderline grade is achieved, it is recommended that the Learning Practitioner reviews the grading statements, as set out in QQI Grading Criteria, to verify that the grade awarded is in line with QQI grading criteria for levels 4,5,6.

Purpose

The purpose of this procedure is to detail how KWETB uphold the culture of Academic Integrity.

Scope

This procedure applies to all FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. There is an integrated single policy, with integrated procedures for FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers.

Preamble

KWETB is committed to ensuring that assessment is fair and consistent and that all learners for assessment have equal opportunities to demonstrate their competence by participating in valid, reliable and transparent assessment.

Ethical behaviour in relation to assessment is part of the wider curriculum of all FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. Learners and staff should be fully informed about their responsibilities in relation to assessment and for the prevention of assessment malpractice.

It is the responsibility of learners that all submitted work for assessment purposes, including text, graphics, tables, or any representation of ideas in print, electronic or any other media and artefacts, correctly acknowledges the source of any data which is not original to the learner. Within FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers, it is acknowledged that some learners are starting their academic journey, and that education about academic integrity must be embedded in planning of, and delivery of learner induction and information to learners.

It is the responsibility of the Learning Practitioner to enable assessments which are valid, reliable and accessible and give learners the opportunity to reflect their real progress in learning or achievement. Formative feedback in response to submitted assessment evidence is key to furthering learning and supporting learners to achieve their goals. While KWETB centres avail of electronic applications to detect plagiarism, education about responsibility for academic integrity is the primary focus and strength for ethical behaviour in assessment.

The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that both learners and Learning Practitioners are informed in relation to Assessment Malpractice

Assessment malpractice may include but is not limited to:

- Plagiarism i.e., passing off someone else's work as the learner's own work, with or without receiving their permission
- Direct plagiarism of another learner's work or getting another person to complete the assessment activity (both parties should be involved in the investigation)
- Impersonation of another learner
- Failure to produce correct personal identification for the purpose of engagement in an assessment activity
- Fabrication of assessment evidence
- Purchasing or obtaining assessment evidence from a third party/online source/another source where the work is not the learner's own work
- AI generated material
- Alteration of results
- Wrongly obtaining secure assessment materials – e.g., examination papers
- Unauthorised removal of assessment material from the assessment location
- In an assessment event (e.g. examination), any form of communication with other learners Tampering with assessment instruments or evidence
- Behaving in any way that undermines the integrity of the assessment process

Where assessment malpractice is suspected with due cause, this should be reported and processed according to KWETB procedures in a way which is consistent, transparent and fair to all learners.

2.2.5 Reasonable Accommodation in Assessment

Procedure code and title:	2.2.5 Reasonable Accommodation in Assessment

Version Number:	1
Reviewed by:	Quality Assurance Sub-Group
Date approved by Quality Council:	27 th June 2023

Purpose

The purpose of this procedure is to detail how KWETB ensures the fair and consistent assessment of learners, through adapting assessment methods where necessary, to cater for the needs of learners with additional needs or personal needs. This procedure will ensure that the learner(s) requirements are addressed while not compromising the validity and reliability of the assessment process.

Scope

This procedure applies to all FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. There is an integrated single policy, with integrated procedures for FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers.

Preamble

KWETB and its staff are committed to ensuring fairness, consistency and transparency across all activities and enable the learner to apply for reasonable accommodation where it is appropriate to maintain the principles of fairness and consistency. A successful application for reasonable accommodation by, or on behalf of, a learner, can result in changes to the assessment task or assessment instrument to be used for that learner.

All provision of FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers references the Equal Status Act, 2000, which requires education and training establishments to meet the needs of the learner with different abilities. A learner may apply for reasonable accommodation in respect of Specific Needs or in respect of Temporary Circumstances (for example, the impact of a serious injury that does not prevent the learner's attendance at the assessment event), but which may require additional supports).

Such arrangements or adaptations are not intended to and should not reduce the validity and reliability of the assessment or compromise the standard for the award. Adaptations are amendments to the aspects of the assessment technique, instrument or task which prevent the learner's participation in the assessment or hinder the learner's ability to demonstrate that they have met the learning outcome(s).

Reasonable accommodation is applied where the recommended assessment technique(s) or instruments disadvantage learners in assessment and are put in place to enable the learner to demonstrate their knowledge, skill and competence and that they can perform to the standard required to achieve the award in question. Providing reasonable accommodation is not intended to make the assessment easier or more achievable, and the learner availing of them should neither be advantaged nor disadvantaged by their use. The required standard MUST still be achieved and demonstrated.

KWETB personnel are equipped to design assessment using the principles of Universal Design for Learning (UDL) and will apply these principles to the design of assessment, using the available guideline documents published by SOLAS.

The term 'Reasonable Accommodation refers to the adjustment or adaptation of assessment tasks as necessary to cater for the needs of learners whose personal situation means that the assessment would otherwise be unfair e.g., learners with a physical disability; specific learning disability and/or other learners covered by equality legislation. Reasonable Accommodations are intended to facilitate learners to demonstrate their level of accomplishment in relation to the assessment standards. They are not intended to compensate for lack of accomplishment and should not:

- Give an unfair advantage over other learners.
- Reduce the validity and reliability of the assessment
- Compromise the standard of the award.
- Any adaptation of the assessment by Learning Practitioner should facilitate the assessment learner to demonstrate their achievement without significantly altering the standard for the award.

The Learning Practitioner making adaptations should, as far as possible, seek to amend the aspect or aspects of the assessment technique or instrument which prevent(s) or hinders the learner's participation in the assessment. It should be used where the assessment technique(s) or instrument(s) disadvantage the learner, and should do no more than is necessary to allow the learner to demonstrate his or her level of accomplishment, Examples of types of Reasonable Accommodations which can be applied include the following:

- Modified presentation of assignments/examination papers e.g., enlargements
- Scribes/readers
- Sign language interpreter
- Practical assistants
- Rest periods/supervised breaks
- Adaptive equipment/software
- Use of assistive technology
- The use of bilingual dictionary for learners whose first language is not English
- Additional time

The implementation of these adaptations will ensure that all learners are assessed on an impartial basis.

KWETB centres delivering programmes for non-QQI awarding bodies are required to reference specific policies and procedures they may publish to ensure that the correct procedures are applied, and standards maintained.

These procedures should be read in conjunction with 1.3.5 Adapting Assessment.

Purpose

The purpose of this procedure is to detail how KWETB ensures that the learner is not unfairly disadvantaged if they cannot participate in assessment due to personal events/circumstances beyond their control. This procedure outlines how the learner can apply to defer an assessment activity if they feel their assessment performance or preparation for assessment has been affected due the event.

Scope

This procedure applies to all FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. There is an integrated single policy, with integrated procedures for FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers.

Preamble

The learner can experience personal events which may impact on their ability to participate in assessment. When this type of event occurs, the learner can apply for Compassionate Consideration if they feel their assessment performance or preparation for assessment has been affected due to this event.

Examples of circumstances where a learner may apply for Compassionate Consideration include:

- A physical injury during a period of four to six weeks before the assessment deadline or scheduled assessment event.
- Emotional trauma during a period of four to six weeks before the assessment deadline or scheduled assessment event.
- A physical disability or chronic disabling conditions such as epilepsy, glandular fever or other incapacitating illness which prevented participation in the scheduled assessment.
- The recent bereavement of a close family member or friend.
- Severe accident.
- Domestic crisis.

- Terminal illness of a close family member.
- Other extenuating circumstances.

In these circumstances, the learner may apply to defer the assessment: i.e. to complete the assessment activity on another occasion or submit assessment materials on an alternative date.

These examples are circumstances which are unlikely to be considered valid criteria for availing of Compassionate Consideration:

- Typical symptoms associated with examination stress.
- Minor illnesses such as common cold.
- Holidays.
- I.T. or computer failure (excluding during an exam).
- Where English is not the first language of the assessment learner (This issue should be dealt with separately and appropriate supports provided to enable learners to contribute and participate in learning delivered through English.)

When considering an application for compassionate consideration, fairness to the learner and all other learners must be the overriding principle when evaluating applications.

Granting the compassionate consideration should be based on evidence provided by the learner regarding the extenuating circumstances.

The Programme Co-ordinator should decide based on the learner's application for compassionate consideration. The Programme Co-ordinator may consult with the designated person with responsibility for QA authentication / TSO regarding the application.

Procedure – 2.2.6 Compassionate Consideration

1	The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that information about availing of Compassionate Consideration is circulated to learners at course induction. The Learning Practitioner should ensure that information about availing of Compassionate Consideration is circulated to learners and in advance of assessment periods.
2	If appropriate, the learner should complete an application for Compassionate Consideration in advance of the assessment date. The learner should submit the application to the Programme Co-ordinator.
3	The Programme Co-ordinator should gather more information from the learner if necessary, including requesting medical certificates or other evidence.

4	The Programme Co-ordinator should decide based on the information received based on procedure.
5	The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure the decision is recorded and signed off on the Compassionate Consideration Application Form. A decision must be made promptly, ideally within 3 working days from receipt of application.
6	The Programme Co-ordinator should communicate the decision to the learner and affected staff.
7	The Learning Practitioner should arrange an alternative opportunity for the learner to complete the assessment, including the provision of an alternative examination paper/assessment brief to ensure the validity and reliability of the assessment. The Programme Co-ordinator should engage an invigilator as necessary. The learner should participate in the assessment under the same circumstances as the previous instance of the assessment.
8	The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure they adjust the Centre Assessment Plan/ F12 if necessary.
9	The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that all documentation is filed in the learner file. The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that all documentation is confidential and stored in a secure place.
10	The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure they record the instance(s) of Compassionate Consideration applied for and granted (without reference to personal details) on the Internal Verification Report.

Appeals for Compassionate Consideration:
1	The learner (or parent/guardian for U18s) have a right to appeal if they are dissatisfied with any aspect of the decision in relation to their application for Compassionate Consideration. The appeal must be made in writing using the Compassionate Consideration Appeal form. The learner should submit this application to the Co-ordinator/Programme Manager within 5 working days from the date of notification.
2	The Programme Co-ordinator should submit the Compassionate Consideration Appeals Application form to the Adult Education Officer for decision.

Purpose

The purpose of this procedure is to detail how KWETB ensures that the learners is given fair and realistic timelines within which to submit their work. This procedure sets out the process how the two situations of expected and unexpected missed deadlines may be granted:

Scope

This procedure applies to all FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. There is an integrated single policy, with integrated procedures for FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers.

Preamble

KWETB staff should determine and agree assessment schedules and plans through centre planning meetings. The learner should be informed of key deadline dates early, and regularly through in-class interactions; noticeboards; student handbooks and through online and social media platforms. The learner should have access to information about deadlines to ensure that all will have fair opportunities to submit assessment evidence and other work on time.

The learner should be informed of actions to be taken in the event of extenuating circumstances (see procedure 2.2.6 Compassionate Consideration). The Learning Practitioner should not accept late submissions for assessment unless there are proven extenuating circumstances and a short-term extension of compassionate considerations application has been granted.

The Programme Co-ordinator is responsible for ensuring that all learners are aware of deadlines and of actions to take if a deadline is likely to be or has been missed.

Procedure – 2.2.7 - Deadlines, short-term extensions and deferrals –

Expected Missed Deadlines

Expected Missed Assessment Deadlines is where a learner already had a commitment prior to publication of the assessment schedules. In this case, the learner should make every effort to submit the work prior to that deadline.

In the case of a Skills Demonstration/Practical, the Learning Practitioner should arrange to reschedule the assessment if possible.

1	The granting or refusal of a short-term extension is at the discretion of the Programme Co-ordinator.
2	The learner should contact the Programme Co-ordinator by phone or e-mail notifying them of the issue as soon as they are aware of it.
3	The learner should complete the application for a short-term extension.
4	On consideration, and if there are not consequences to the fairness, reliability and validity of the assessment, the Programme Co-ordinator may offer the learner a short extension which will allow the learner to submit for the current certification period. If a deferral is granted, the learner may submit for the current certification period or the next certification period.
5	The Learning Practitioner should ensure that the evidence submitted is marked and graded in accordance with the stated standards for the award.
6	The Co-ordinator/Programme Manager should ensure the learner is aware that, if unsuccessful, they can appeal the process and decision and KWETB's appeals procedure will be followed.
7	The Programme Co-ordinator should ensure that all details of the deferral are recorded on the Internal Verification Report.

Deadlines, short-term extensions and deferrals – Unexpected Missed Deadlines

Unexpected Missed Assessment Deadlines, in which an unexpected event militates against the meeting of the deadline. In this case, the learner may apply for

- a. A short-term extension or
- b. Compassionate Consideration.

1	Where the learner cannot apply for or complete a short-term extension, an application for compassionate consideration can be made. (2.2.6 Compassionate Consideration procedure).

Purpose

The aim of this procedure is to detail Kildare and Wicklow ETB's procedure with respect to the repeat of assessments for learners enrolled in QQI accredited courses. It provides equitable opportunities for academic advancement while upholding the integrity of assessment standards.

Scope

This procedure is applicable to all learners enrolled in QQI accredited programmes delivered by Kildare and Wicklow ETB, where Learning Outcomes are assessed. Certain programmes, including Early Learning and Care (ELC), Apprenticeship programmes, and other programmes delivered by other awarding bodies have specific requirements that take precedence over the requirement in this document. Learners will be informed of the relevant repeat procedures during their course induction. This policy applies to courses at levels 4,5,6.

Information to Learners

All information regarding repeat assessments should be provided to learners in line with KWETB's procedures 2.1 Communications concerning assessment: Learners should be made aware of these procedures at Induction and throughout delivery.

- 2.2.6 Compassionate Consideration
- 2.2.7 Deadlines, Short-term Extensions and Deferrals
- 2.2.3 Assessment Appeals
- 2.2.8 Repeat of Assessment

Compassionate Consideration

If a learner cannot submit or sit an assessment due to illness, bereavement, etc, they should refer to procedure 2.2.6 Compassionate Consideration.

Feedback

Learners should receive timely and constructive feedback both formative and summative on their assessments as set out in procedure 1.3.9 Feedback to Learners.

Opportunities for Repeat and Resubmission

Learners should be offered the opportunity to repeat and resubmit an assessment.

Learners are given the opportunity to repeat the assessment task once only (i.e. two assessment opportunities in total).

Unsuccessful in Assessment

If a learner is unsuccessful in passing an assessment activity, resulting in not meeting all the Learning Outcomes, the learner should be offered the opportunity to repeat and resubmit an equivalent assessment.

Conditions for Repeat Assessments

Repeat assessments should be conducted under the same or similar conditions as the original assessment event.

Notification of Repeat/Resubmission Details

Learners should be informed of the dates, deadlines, and times for repeat and resubmission of assessments. The minimum timeline for a repeat activity to conclude is one week before RAP. Dates of repeat activity should be selected by the centre manager for their centre, ensuring that it meets the criteria set out in this policy and is clearly communicated to learners. In some cases, due to timelines, learners would have to be submitted for a different certification period. The maximum timeframe for a repeat activity is six months from the original certification period.

Grounds for Repeating / Resubmitting an Assessment

Where appropriate, learners can repeat an assessment only if they have not successfully passed an assessment and would otherwise be referred. Repeating an assessment is not permitted for the purpose of improving a learner's grade.

Learners may only repeat an assessment for a module in which they have not achieved success. This option is available only when they have previously submitted the assessment and have not attained at least 50% of the marks available for that assessment task.

Purpose

The purpose of this procedure is to detail how KWETB, as a registered QQI provider, has appropriate resources in place to support the delivery of validated programmes and their associated quality assurance procedures. The allocation of resources and the associated processes are an essential factor in making decisions about what programmes will be offered to learners. These decisions are underpinned by our organisational values of integrity, learner centred, respect and excellence.

Scope

This procedure applies to all FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. There is an integrated single policy, with integrated procedures for FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers.

Preamble

Resources are allocated to FET services to ensure that KWETB can meet its obligations as a registered QQI provider. Resources may need to be allocated at ETB, programme and/or service level. Resources can include physical infrastructure, human resources, financial resources, and supports including services, programme equipment and programme materials. Resource allocation is governed by SOLAS Funding Requirements (which are issued annually) and programme operational guidelines which are specific to each funding stream.

Centre, college and programme resources are allocated to programme funding streams in accordance with SOLAS Funding Requirements (published and adjusted annually) and programme (funding stream) operational guidelines. These SOLAS Funding Requirements govern how budgets are allocated to programme funding streams and the programme operational guidelines set out how these resources should be used. Financial allocations are made on an annual basis following successful funding applications to SOLAS through an online database (Funding Allocation Request Reporting [FARR]). A narrative supporting the FAR is submitted, including a qualitative report on the previous year's activities. A budget worksheet in which each funding stream is further broken into pay, non-pay and allowances with an overarching section for support services, projects and capital spends also supports the application.

A formal allocation is made by SOLAS to the ETB and pay (human resources), non-pay and learner allowances (where applicable) are then allocated to each programme and to each centre under each programme. Pay (human resources) is dictated by an annual ceiling and non-pay is allocated to required expenditure such as rent, overheads and programme materials. Support services are funded in a similar way with a focus primarily on pay. At centre/service level, there is very minimal discretionary funding.

Capital spending (infrastructure) is allocated on an annual basis based on the size of the ETB, and applications for additional capital funding can be requested for specific projects. Specific projects may also be funded on the basis of business cases submitted to SOLAS.

Procedure – 3.1.1 Resource Allocation

1	KWETB should complete the annual funding bid for submission to SOLAS which includes the FARR online database, Funding Request and Progress Report and FAR 4 (Budget) in line with the Funding Requirements for ETBs in line with the stated deadlines in the Funding Requirements.
2	The FAR 4 budget request should include Pay (human resources), Non-Pay and Learner allowances broken down by funding stream. Capital spending should be included based on the ETB size and on particular initiatives. Support services and special projects should also be included.
3	SOLAS makes an allocation to the ETB based on the submission.
4	The FET Management Team and Finance Section should make allocations to centres/services including Pay, Non-pay and Learner Allowances. Capital allocations may also be made to centres/services. Allocations should also be made to support services and special projects.

5	At centre/service level, Programme Co-ordinators should manage and/or monitor the allocated Pay, Non-pay and Capital allocations as appropriate. Programme Co-ordinators of support services and special projects should manage and/or monitor those allocations as appropriate, ensuring that sufficient resources are provided for the planned activities included in the FAR submission to SOLAS.
6	The Finance Section should prepare expenditure reports at ETB and centre/service level. Expenditure forecasts and reports should be prepared by the Finance Section in consultation with the FET Management Team and submitted to SOLAS as appropriate.
7	Proposals for the delivery of new programmes leading to QQI and other awarding body awards should be considered by the Programme Governance Sub-Group and evidence will be required to be provided to support the availability of appropriate resources to support the delivery of the programme. Programme validation also requires supporting evidence with regard to the availability of appropriate resources.

Scope

This procedure applies to all FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. There is an integrated single policy, with integrated procedures for FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers.

Preamble

KWETB has an organisation-wide policy for risk management designed to eliminate and manage the impact of identified risks on the achievement of its strategic and operational objectives. The policy for risk management is informed by the Step by Step Guide to Managing ETB Risk (IPB Insurance) and the Code of Practice for the Governance of Education and Training Boards (ETBI/Department of Education) and refers to appropriate associated legislation, government departments and codes of practice.

All staff of further education and training are encouraged and supported by their line managers to take ownership of identification and management of risk within their scope of work. Understanding of risk management and promotion of a risk management culture in the organisation can contribute significantly to innovation, development, effectiveness and efficiency.

Programme Co-ordinators and line managers are responsible for ensuring that the policy is implemented; notifying change in the level of risk to the Corporate Governance and Compliance Manager; providing support to staff to manage risk; and support systems for the investigation of incidents that may give rise to reports of risk.

The KWETB Policy for Management of Risk states that:

‘risk can be thought of as a possible loss or other adverse consequence that has the potential to impact on the KWETB ability to achieve its objectives and fulfil its mission’ (Policy on Risk Management: 2020:8)

There are ten identified risk categories that have been identified in relation to education and training:

- Business continuity
- Contractual
- Environmental
- Financial
- Information security
- Legislative
- Liability claims
- Physical and wellbeing
- Professional and managerial
- Strategic

Procedure – 3.1.2 Risk Management

1	A centralised KWETB risk register should be drawn up and maintained by the named compliance officer.
2	The FET Management Team should direct personnel in risk management activities if necessary.
3	Centre and College management should engage with their teams appropriately to ensure that high level identified risks are minimised.
4	Centre and College management should engage with their staff teams to identify risk flows from the objectives of KWETB’s Statement of Strategy as they affect the location, people and environment locally, using the techniques identified in the KWETB policy and with reference to the KWETB risk register.
5	Identification of risk should be carried out objectively, drawing on unbiased, independent evidence.
6	The owner of the risk should be identified.
7	Assessment of risk if carried out using the likelihood X impact of risk matrix should be used.
8	Risk management should be a standing meeting agenda item and new, recategorized, and terminated risks should be reported to the Compliance and Governance Manager or the Director of OSD for inclusion in/deletion from the Risk register.

9	The risk should be actively managed: terminated; treated; tolerated or transferred.
10	There should be an ongoing cycle of monitoring, reviewing and reporting on the management of the risk and updating of the risk register.

Purpose

The purpose of this procedure is to detail how KWETB establishes a structure for the governance of quality in the FET system. Through this system, there is a decision-making process that ensures that the outcomes of FET will be aligned with the mission, values and strategies of the organisation, with community, labour market and socio-economic priorities and that they will be of value to the region.

Scope

This procedure applies to all FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. There is an integrated single policy, with integrated procedures for FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers.

Preamble

KWETB FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers service structures for governance of quality are informed by the requirements of legislation and by the following documents published by Quality and Qualifications, Ireland:

- Core Statutory Quality Assurance Guidelines (QQI, 2016)
- Sector Specific Quality Assurance Guidelines (ETBs) (QQI, 2017)
- Topic Specific Guidelines for Providers of Statutory Apprenticeships (QQI, 2016)

The governance structure is designed to formalise and ensure oversight of the KWETB's Single Quality Assurance Framework from the proposal of new programmes to reviewing the continued relevance of programmes, all underpinned by analysis of data and outcomes and monitoring effectiveness and ensuring improvement of quality.

The KWETB governance system provides:

- Confirmatory oversight and assurance that actions have been taken in accordance with the approved Single Quality Assurance Framework. This oversight assures internal and external stakeholders that FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers in the region is of a high standard which is aligned with national and international standards.
- Identification of themes and trends arising in given business areas and approving business proposals which support the evolution of FET and continuous improvement.
- Enabling experienced individuals, impacted individuals, and external parties to participate in decision-making and to assist in the maintenance and implementation of standards, including through endorsing documentation; engaging in cyclical review and receiving reports on follow-up actions.

Matters regarding the quality assurance and safeguarding of FET standards are the responsibility of the Chief Executive of the ETB. They are not featured among the reserved functions of the Education and training Board. The Chief Executive delegates governance roles; management and corporate governance roles to relevant parties.

FET governance of quality within KWETB covers the scale and diverse range of provision within the organisation. The KWETB governance system together with the KWETB Single Quality Assurance Framework are applicable to all of the services. Where there are additional or alternative governance structures relevant to a specific area of provision, these will be adopted. Policy and governance requirements of awarding bodies other than QQI will be applied where necessary. Decisions about delivery of programmes leading to awards made by other awarding bodies will be made within KWETB's system for governance of quality. KWETB's Single Quality Framework and governance system also covers unaccredited provision, comprehending that students on unaccredited programmes are also entitled to avail of high-quality experience of education and training.

The components of governance of quality in FET include the Quality Council and its sub-groups; the Quality Team and the Single Quality Assurance Framework. Governance of quality and further development of the culture of quality in FET at KWETB depends on the commitment and input of all staff at centre, college and administrative level.

KWETB's QA system for FET has regard to both the corporate and academic domains of our business, ensuring that resources to support programme provision and the student experience. The FET governance system of KWETB has established channels of communication with KWETB corporate governance decision making structures. Representatives of corporate governance structures are included in the FET QA governance structures, or can be invited to meetings if necessary.

Through its FET QA governance systems, KWETB supports the concept of separation, in which a governance unit cannot approve work that it has produced. However, some individuals who are involved in governance units may be involved in projects due to their individual expertise or experience, recognising the current developmental phase of the organisation.

Structure of KWETB's FET QA Governance

KWETB's FET QA Governance system is structured as follows:

- FET Quality Council
 - o Quality Assurance Sub-group
 - o Programme Governance Sub-group
 - o Stakeholder Engagement Sub-group
- The terms of reference for the Quality Council and the first two sub-groups have been adopted with a review due in December 2021. The third group was established in September 2021.

Membership of the Quality Council and its sub-groups, include staff and student representatives and external stakeholder representation where possible. The areas of student and external stakeholder engagement are new and are being developed within the organisation. The stakeholder engagement sub-group of the Quality Council has been established to support this objective.

KWETB recognises the importance of a multi-layered system, acknowledging that there may be local practices, and building on these to develop consistency and standardise approaches which build on and enhance the very good practice at centre and local level. The routinisation of certain aspects of QA will help to enhance practice, communication and outcomes for students.

The agreed terms of references for the Quality Council and its sub-groups detail the membership, roles and responsibilities of the governance units. An interactive schedule for QA is published and helps to ensure that there are no overlaps and that sub-groups have adequate time to send reports to the Quality Council to be taken as read.

KWETB has:

- Established a QA oversight governance unit in the form of the Quality Council with delegated responsibility from the CE.
- The sub-groups are governance units which can make recommendations to the Quality Council.
- Governance units include knowledgeable members equipped to make decisions related to their functions.
- The governance system includes decision-making on all programmes, regardless of their awarding status.

The KWETB Governance system is set up to oversee:

- New programme proposals and programme development prior to approval and submission for evaluation and validation
- Self-evaluation findings and quality improvement planning
- Approval and cyclical review of QA policies and procedures
- Non-standard admissions and recommendations for approval
- Analysis of data on student enrolment, progression and completion rates
- Outcomes of data analysis and reports generated to inform internal quality assurance, strategic decision-making and benchmarking of KWETB and its activities
- Approval of data for submission to QQI
- Approval of formal relationships with other providers and organisations
- Examinations of trends in feedback from EA or RAP or QA of assessment processes that may suggest actions required in terms of quality improvements; additional student supports or CPD
- Monitoring and review of risk

The intersection of the KWETB QA governance system with corporate governance and other divisions of the organisation is constructive, and these synergies will be enhanced and developed as the system develops.

- Collaborating providers including off-the-job providers
- Apprentices

A relevant provider is a provider whose programme of education and training is validated under section 45 of the Act (2012); or a provider that has entered into an arrangement with an awarding body under Section 48. A linked provider 'enters into an arrangement with a designated awarding body under which arrangement the provider provides a programme of education and training that satisfies all or part of the prerequisites for an award of the designated awarding body' (Q&Q Act, 2012).

QQI has published topic specific guidelines for QA of apprenticeship, and this document, together with specific Apprenticeship documents, and Core Statutory QA Guidelines (QQI, 2016) provides a guide to the quality assurance of apprenticeship programmes. The relationship between the co-ordinating provider and key stakeholders is essential to ensure that the apprenticeship programme meets the requirements of the occupation. Co-ordinating Providers are necessary because there are single apprenticeship programmes per occupational profile and multiple stakeholders.

The Co-ordinating Provider

A Co-ordinating Provider is a relevant or linked provider who is ultimately responsible for providing (as defined by the 2012 Act) an apprenticeship programme. Coordinating providers are responsible for the development and maintenance of the curriculum, delivery and evaluation of apprenticeship programmes and have quality assurance accountability to QQI in respect of employer-led apprenticeships. The Co-ordinating Provider may be a part of a wider consortium, including, for example, employers, employer representative bodies and ETBs.

The Co-ordinating Provider liaises with employers and other providers involved as partners in the apprenticeship. An Initial Consortium Steering Group (ICSG) identifies the entity which is to be the Co-ordinating Provider (an existing relevant or linked provider), or may establish a new entity to become the Co-ordinating Provider.

The Co-ordinating Provider:

- a. Takes responsibility for the development of a programme proposal to go forward for validation.
- b. Establishes a Programme Board, that is representative of employers and education and training providers, to advise on the programme proposal and operation.
- c. Ensures that the apprenticeship programme conforms to, and evolves with, the requirements of the occupation; is enterprise-led; and meets labour market needs.
- d. Develops assessment instruments that adequately support certification of achievement of learning outcomes, employ appropriate grading systems, and all necessary appeal mechanisms. The assessment systems should embrace both on-the-job and off-the-job phases.
- e. Applies to the awarding body for validations (or validate the programme if it has the required awarding authority).
- f. Develops such administrative systems as are necessary to ensure efficient and effective management of programme provision, including tracking and managing apprentices' progress
- g. Manages the programme during operational delivery.

- h. Develops and maintains systems for access (in collaboration with employers of apprentices), transfer, progression and expulsion of participants, including all necessary appeal processes.
- i. Co-ordinates the actions of other providers of education and training, which are involved in curriculum development and in programme provisions.
- j. Co-ordinates with employers to ensure (i) that recruitment of apprentices considers the knowledge, skill and competence required for apprentices to have a reasonable chance of completing the programme and (ii) the effective and efficient training of apprentices within the workplace to reach programme learning outcomes.
- k. Where the relevant occupation is regulated (whether by law or in fact) the Co-ordinating Provider consults with regulators to ensure that the criteria for access to the apprenticeship and the apprenticeship programme remain consistent with applicable regulation.
- l. Agree and implement a system with employers for evaluation and review of employer training capacity and for addressing any gaps in that capacity. This might, for example, be accomplished through the formal involvement of a Consortium Steering Group.
- m. Ensure that any expansion of the consortium, through additional providers or employers, has due regard to any relevant quality assurance matters.
- n. Develop a quality system to manage curriculum and assessment updates and improvements where multiple providers are involved, so as to ensure that the national character of the curriculum is maintained and that the approved curriculum is implemented by all collaborating providers, in accordance with the unique validated programme for the apprenticeship.

The Local Collaborative Provider (LCP)

Local Collaborative Providers are responsible for the delivery of the apprenticeship programme in their own institution. Each LCP appoints a team to manage the local delivery of the programme.

LCPs are required to have and apply QA policies and procedures that are commensurate with those of QQI and the Co-ordinating Provider. These are considered during the due diligence and risk assessment process in advance of LCP approval, and are monitored through annual reports to the national programme board.

SOLAS Statutory Responsibility

SOLAS has statutory responsibility to approve and register employers and apprentices; to establish training orders and to make statutory rules for the operation of apprenticeships. SOLAS has responsibility for managing the national apprenticeship programme. Authorised Officers (AOs) located within each ETB carry out activities on behalf of SOLAS and implement its statutory brief. The authorised officers:

- Brief employers on their role and responsibilities in the on-the-job elements of the programme including the Apprenticeship Council's code of practice for employers and apprentices
- Visit employer sites
- Approve employers' sites as suitable locations to deliver the relevant apprenticeship programmes
- Maintain employer and apprentice registers
- Work collaboratively with the programme team delivering the apprenticeship

Stages of Apprenticeship in relation to QA

Specific stages of apprenticeships relevant to quality assurance and validation of programmes of education and training are:

Stage 1: Approval of an occupational profile (Apprenticeship Council).

Stage 2: Development of a detailed apprenticeship programme for the purpose of seeking validation of the programme leading to an award at a specified level in the NFQ.

Stage 3: Validation of the apprenticeship programme for an award in the NFQ. The awarding body satisfies itself as to the fitness of the proposed programme in light of the award sought.

Stage 4: Provision of the apprenticeship programme and assessment of learners' achievements.

Stage 5: Continual reviews and periodic revalidation of the programme.

Approval of the occupational profile is the preserve of the Apprenticeship Council. All of the other stages are relevant to quality assurance.

Contracted providers are responsible for the recruitment of Learning Practitioners, provision of appropriate learning environments including locations and equipment that are to standard, operating to high levels of health and safety, delivery of the programme for FET provision, ensuring that learners are enabled achieve the programme learning outcomes, assessment of learners, and learner evaluation of the programme and experience.

The responsibilities of programme contractors are further detailed in the contract.

Procedure – 3.2.4 Sub-Contracting Programme Delivery

1	KWETB should request a request to tender.
2	Potential Contractors should respond, submitting tenders to KWETB's procurement office.
3	A panel should be convened to evaluate the tenders according to specific criteria, carrying out due diligence and risk assessment.
4	The successful contractor should be awarded the contract and this should be signed off by the Director of Further Education and Training/Chief Executive.

Scope

This procedure applies to all FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. There is an integrated single policy, with integrated procedures for FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers.

Preamble

KWETB FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers policies and procedures can become out-of-date over time and may become no longer fit for purpose. Overarching policy and environmental changes and future challenges can have a significant impact on current policies and procedures.

Policies and procedures may also be impacted by national policies published by national agencies or government departments.

Process and Application

A schedule of policies and procedures for review should be agreed on an annual basis. The Quality Assurance sub-group should monitor the implementation of the review process and should report its progress to the Quality Council.

Feedback from Programme Co-ordinators, learning practitioners, internal review and quality processes should support this process. Policies and procedures may also be flagged for improvement at Quality Team meetings, Quality Council meetings, Results Approval Panel meetings, by FET Management, or in other meetings.

The process should include initial recommendations for changes, consultation with the Quality Assurance Sub-group on the draft and updating as per feedback, and if necessary, a wider consultation on the updated draft across services and stakeholders.

Following the review, document version control and management processes should be observed, and previous versions should be withdrawn and archived. All stakeholders should be informed of the updated version.

KWETB may trigger a comprehensive review of the Quality Assurance System in advance of a quality review (i.e. in a five-seven-year cycle).

Procedure – 3.3.1 Internal Policy Evaluation and Review

Purpose

The purpose of this procedure is to detail how KWETB makes every effort to ensure that validated programmes for FET Provision remain valid, current and retain their value to the community served.

Scope

This procedure applies to all FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. There is an integrated single policy, with integrated procedures for FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers.

Preamble

KWETB may commission a review of a validated programme, or group of programmes for any of the following reasons:

- Conclusion of the period for which the programme is validated
- Repeated decline in interest in the programme
- Reduction in available resources for the programme
- Update to programme governance/change required to programme governance
- Instances in which the quality or standard of delivery is compromised in any way
- In response to regulatory changes in specific vocational fields
- In response to an awarding body requirement
- To meet our commitment to high quality delivery
- Deactivation of awards by an awarding body

Programme Monitoring

To ensure a consistently high level of quality of programme provision and delivery KWETB should conduct regular and adequate programme evaluation and review. The purpose of this procedure is to inform the conduct of programme evaluation and review to ensure that programmes meet the needs and expectations of all the relevant stakeholders including learners, employers, the local community and awarding bodies. The process should enable the improvement of course variety, content and facilities and facilitate reporting about the success of programmes.

Locally, in centres of FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers, programme quality is monitored regularly, referring to feedback from learning practitioners and learners. Enrolment rates, waiting lists, learner attrition, certification rates and programme evaluations inform decisions about whether to continue delivering validated programmes, or to introduce new programmes validated to KWETB. Plans and decisions are recommended through the Programme Governance Sub-group and approved, or not, by the Quality Council. Other stakeholders such as employers, community groups and government agencies may also influence programme development. Monitoring of results and External Authenticator Reports inform decisions regarding review and evaluation of programmes. Evaluation of programmes should be evidence-based.

Objectives of the Internal Programme Monitoring and Review Process

The ten objectives of a programme review are to evaluate the programme as implemented in light of KWETB's experience of providing the programme over the previous five years to determine the following items:

1	From ongoing feedback, what has been identified since the last review process both favourable and constructive regarding the programme/suite of related programmes?
2	What conclusions can be drawn from the available data about the quality and relevance of the programme/suite of programmes? 1.1 Quantitative data, including, for example, learner enrolment and waiting list information, classroom attendance, completion, and certification data. 1.2 Qualitative data, including, for example, IV reports, EA reports RAP processes and student evaluations.
3	Considering the current environment and future challenges what are the strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats concerning the programme/suite of related programmes?
4	Does the programme/suite of programmes meet the stated objectives and intended learning outcomes?
5	Does the programme/suite of programmes address the explicit learning needs of target learners and the needs of society?

6	Is there justification for the provider continuing to offer the programme, either in its current form or updated?
7	Identify any beneficial improvements that would enhance the programme and ensure its suitability and relevance to both learners and society.
8	Does KWETB have the capacity to and capability to provide the programme as outlined to a high standard? Consider enrolments, learner profile, availability of resources including suitably qualified teaching staff, suitable equipment and facilities.
9	Consider QQI validation requirements. Does the current programme meet QQI validation criteria?
10	In light of the programme review and evaluation process would any of KWETB's policies including quality assurance policies benefit from review and update?

Procedure – 3.3.2 Internal Programme Monitoring, Evaluation and Review

1	The FET Management should prepare a plan for programme review timelines and submit to KWETB Programme Governance Sub-group. It is recommended that programme clusters be reviewed together, thereby streamlining component review and providing the opportunity to identify whether additional programme and components require development.
2	The designated person responsible for validation should communicate the review plan to all relevant stakeholders, including QQI if required.
3	A review working group is assigned as a working group of the Programme Governance Sub-group. This working group should be provided with an agreed term of reference and a workplan.
4	The review working group should consult stakeholders and collect feedback. (Feedback can be gathered continuously from stakeholders and on-going QA processes as issues arise, as well as at review intervals).
5	The review working group should collate a report based on the feedback.
6	The review working group should conduct the review and evaluation of the validated programme, against outlined objectives and criteria.
7	The review working group should update the programme descriptor based on evidence gathered.

8	The designated person responsible for validation should ensure that the revalidation is internally evaluated prior to submission to the KWETB Programme Governance Sub-group and a report should be prepared.
9	The designated person responsible for validation should submit the revalidation to the Programme Governance Sub-group for review. The Programme Governance Sub-group can: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Request further information from the review working group. b. Recommend the programme for a revalidation application to the awarding body.
10	If approved, the Chair of the Programme Governance Sub-group should present the revalidation to the KWETB Quality Council for approval.
11	If approved, the designated person responsible for validation should ensure that the details of the programme are uploaded to qHub portal.
12	If required, key personnel should meet with the revalidation panel if appropriate/necessary.
13	The person responsible for validation should present the outcome of the revalidation to the Programme Governance Sub-group. If required, mandatory and recommended changes should be addressed by the review working group.
14	The Quality team should communicate the outcome of the process to all stakeholders, including a summary for information purpose.
15	The Quality team should ensure that the revalidated programme is distributed and all old programme versions are withdrawn and archived.

Purpose

The purpose of this procedure is to detail how KWETB develops and engages in structured self-evaluation processes as one element of an evidence-based approach to improvement of quality.

Scope

This procedure applies to all FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. There is an integrated single policy, with integrated procedures for FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers.

Preamble

In 2021 KWETB engaged in a self-evaluation process and published a Self-Evaluation Report and Provider Profile as part of the QQI Inaugural Review of quality assurance in ETBs. This is part of an on-going process of reflection, self-evaluation and planning for quality assurance in FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers in KWETB.

Self-evaluation is also a core part of KWETB FET Services quality assurance processes. Self-evaluation is carried out:

- To meet statutory requirements for review
- To promote reflective approaches to improvement and constructive development within the service
- To inform and enhance planning and strategic developments
- To benefit the community served and to benefit the professional development of all staff within our services using reflective approaches.

Self-evaluation is carried out in a number of circumstances:

1. To meet legal and compliance requirements, which emphasise the value of self-evaluation as an internal process that informs quality improvement. This process contributes to the development of the culture of quality in the organisation.

2. To review existing programmes of education and training prepared for validation or revalidation to ensure that all of the criteria identified by the awarding body have been met in advance of submission to the relevant authority for validation.

Comprehensive self-evaluation should be carried out at regular intervals by KWETB, in accordance with timeframes and routines defined by QQI. Self-evaluations should include data gathered frequently from all stakeholders, and should refer to existing systems and documentation relevant to quality assurance of FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers programmes. Self-evaluation may also be thematic in nature and include the self-evaluation of Quality groups including governance units and approaches.

The requirement for self-evaluation should emanate from Senior Management and FET Management, and decisions regarding co-ordination and management of the process should be made by FET Management, in consultation through QA Governance units.

Purpose

The purpose of this procedure is to detail how KWETB ensures that appropriate research methodologies are used in the conduct of thematic reviews.

Scope

This procedure applies to all FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. There is an integrated single policy, with integrated procedures for FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers.

Preamble

Thematic reviews can contribute significantly to internal self-monitoring, and the quality of thematic reviews is perceived as essential to quality improvement within the organisation. Thematic review that is carried out using robust methodology can contribute significantly to the quality and reputation of organisations.

KWETB management will identify specific individual topics which will be the subject of thematic reviews. These topics may reflect significant issues which have come to light, for example, through the External Authentication Process or may relate to a need to update a policy or improvement of a specific aspect of our services.

Thematic reviews will be carried out on an individual topic basis as identified by KWETB as part of a monitoring and review process. The need for a thematic review may emanate from FET Management, Senior Management, the Quality Team, the Quality Council or one of its sub-groups.

Purpose of Thematic Reviews:

Thematic reviews can be used to contribute to improved quality by helping KWETB to identify opportunities to:

- Support and enhance the delivery of teaching, training, learning and assessment
- Help identify and highlight areas of good practice which can be used by the organisation in the development of teaching, learning and assessment.
- Build cross-organisation consultation sessions and collaborations internally and externally
- Develop and use internal and external research methods to enhance quality
- Develop Professional Development programmes and identify training needs for staff.
- Improve and evaluate existing processes and procedures
- Put in place plans at the organisational level to address issues identified

Some areas where thematic reviews can be carried out include, for example:

- Self-evaluation, Quality Improvement Planning, Programme monitoring etc.
- Assessment
- Technology-enhanced learning/teaching
- Facilitating improved engagement of prospective learners and existing learners from different groups e.g. Members of the Traveller Community, Refugee Resettlement, Learners with disabilities

3.3.5 Quality Improvement Planning (QIP)

Procedure code and title:	3.3.5 Quality Improvement Planning (QIP)
Policy area:	3.3 Monitoring and Evaluation
Version Number:	1
Reviewed by:	Quality Assurance Sub-Group
Date approved by Quality Council:	27 th June 2023
Date of Implementation:	1 st January 2024

Purpose

The purpose of this procedure is to detail how KWETB's monitoring and evaluation processes lead to the identification and development of Quality Improvement Plans.

Scope

This procedure applies to all FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. There is an integrated single policy, with integrated procedures for FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers.

Preamble

Quality Improvement Plans are a response to issues arising or needs identified and are time bound. These responses may occur in a number of ways:

- In response to Internal Verification and External Authentication, a centre or a programme may be the subject of a Quality Improvement Plan
- In response to a student complaint or appeal
- In response to the outcome of a programme evaluation process
- In response to the outcome of a thematic review
- As recommendations following a self-evaluation
- In response to an external quality review

KWETB's Quality Governance Units (Quality Council, Quality Assurance Sub-group, Programme Governance Sub-group and Quality Team) can establish a QIP. A central annual QIP can be devised, tracked and can be added, subject to approval by the Quality Council throughout the year.

The QIP should be representative of a cyclical approach to assuring quality within KWETB, and is actioned using the 'plan, do, check, act' (PDCA) process, or 'plan, do, study, act' (PDSA).

QIP actions should be implemented in a collaborative and collegiate way, ensuring that the improvements made have a significant impact on the quality of service to learners and the community.

Procedure – 3.3.5 Quality Improvement Planning

1	The designated Quality Team member with responsibility for QIP should devise a draft annual QIP in collaboration with the Quality Governance Sub-groups. This plan should contain specific, actionable, time bound tasks and projects devised based on a review of the outcomes of monitoring and evaluation.
2	The Quality Council should approve the Quality Improvement Plan.
3	The relevant Quality Governance Sub-group should monitor the implementation of the annual QIP and report on its progress to the Quality Council.
4	The relevant Quality Governance Sub-group should assign key responsibilities to the actions. Each action should have a particular lifecycle which should include planning, piloting, studying impact of piloting and implementation, proportionate to the scale of the desired change or improvement. Resources should be provided if necessary.
5	The nominated key personnel should be responsible for the action and for the monitoring of the implementation of the action.
6	The nominated key personnel with responsibility should report to the relevant Quality Governance Unit at appropriate intervals.
7	If necessary, through the Quality Governance Sub-Groups, the QIP can be updated, for example, if an action is identified during the year.
8	The designated Quality Team member with responsibility for QIP should carry out a review of the overall QIP at the end of the calendar year. This should inform the development of the subsequent plan, together with the outcomes of monitoring and evaluation.

Purpose

The purpose of this procedure is to detail how through the regular review of learner support services, KWETB undertakes to ensure that there are equitable progression opportunities for learners participating in our programmes in FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers, and that supports will help to mitigate against identified barriers to successful engagement.

Scope

This procedure applies to all FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. There is an integrated single policy, with integrated procedures for FET Provision and FET Provision Second Providers denoted in the fourteen step procedures. This procedure covers specific arrangement and methods for the review of learner supports.

Preamble

Learner support services and easily available supports, both academic and non-academic, should be responsive and accessible for all KWETB learners. In addition, KWETB embraces the concept of Universal Design to ensure that barriers are removed for learners.

Learner supports fall into three categories:

- Practical and advisory supports, including pastoral care (non-academic)
- Learning supports (academic)
- Policy-driven supports for specific purposes associated with Reasonable Accommodations, Compassionate Consideration, Assessment Malpractice, and Appeals.

The adequacy of the resources available to learners should be monitored on an ongoing basis. Learning resources should be updated and expanded as necessary to reflect up-to-date approaches and learner needs as identified through feedback on teaching and learning.

KWETB Support Services:

- KWETB Accessible Learning Integrated Support Service (ALISS).
- KWETB Adult Guidance Service
- KWETB Student Counselling Service
- Youthreach Advocate
- Literacy and English language support
- One to One support
- Reasonable Accommodations Policy and Procedure
- Compassionate Consideration Policy & Assessment Deferrals
- Laptop loans
- Non-academic support consists of advising: giving information, exploring problems and suggesting directions, assessment, giving feedback to the individual on non-academic aptitudes and skills; action: practical help to promote study; advocacy: making out a case for funding, writing a reference; agitation: promoting changes

Approaches for Learner Support Services:

a.	There should be an integrated approach from the perspective of the learner.
b.	Resources and supports should be responsive to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (i) the needs of the programme (ii) programme review and other evaluation activities (iii) deliberative or decision-making processes requiring feedback on learner support.
c.	Resources should be designed to be accessible to all learners.
d.	There should be clear information to learners about the full range of services available to them and active promotion of resources and supports to ensure that learners are aware of their existence.
e.	There should be mechanisms for annual review of learners' overall impression of learning resources and learner supports and their perspectives about the sufficiency and quality of learning resources and learner supports are listened to and inform improvement.

f.	There should be opportunities for different learning Support/Resource Units to network with each other to ensure a coherent approach.
g.	Pastoral care for the general well-being of learners, provided by staff for learners, including Learning Practitioners, Guidance officers and counsellors and other advisors. Staff will be trained in ethical responsibility and boundaries appropriate when offering pastoral care to learners.
h.	The Code of Practice for Provision of Education and Training to International Learners should be complied with where applicable.
i.	There should be access to services related to programmes, such as library/document repositories; information and computing services; appropriate equipment for practice and, if appropriate, open learning centres.
j.	There should be learner representation opportunities, including regular learner forums to enable learners to communicate with management and give feedback about matters of general concern.
k.	Learners should have full access to guidance service.

Procedure – 3.3.6 Review of Learner Support Services

1	The assigned person(s) responsible for Review of Learner Support Services should develop a cyclical approach for review.
2	The assigned person(s) responsible for Review of Learner Support Services should identify the support or resource to be reviewed.
3	The assigned person(s) responsible for Review of Learner Support Services should develop a proposal which should be submitted to the Quality Assurance Sub-group for review.

Purpose

The purpose of this procedure is to detail how KWETB ensures robust procedures and methods for gathering data for evaluation and monitoring are designed and chosen to ensure that feedback collected from learners and staff is effective and relevant to the improvement of quality.

Scope

This procedure applies to all FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. There is an integrated single policy, with integrated procedures for FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers.

Preamble

Data gathering is integral to KWETB's monitoring and review QQI processes. Feedback should be gathered efficiently and in a way that reduces the risk of 'survey fatigue' and frustration with processes. Feedback gathered should inform quality improvement in a timely fashion, with respect for the 'voices' of learners and staff. Processes for gathering feedback should be designed based on 'real time' approaches and should be used consistently across FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. They will inform learning and monitoring of trends over time and inform consequent decision making.

Types of Data

Feedback should be analysed following the collection of primary and/or secondary data. KWETB FET services should identify a specific platform for the purpose of administering on-line surveys where relevant.

Primary Data can be gathered by the following means:

- Surveys – which can be anonymous, thereby allowing the learner or staff to feel more comfortable in sharing their thoughts or suggestions.
- Open and closed questions can be used

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Likert scales may be used • If a few questions are used, looking at multiple selected themes, this will enable the process to be carried out quickly and easily
Class discussions or focus groups
Learner forums conducted/commissioned from a third party, for example, Aontas
Mid-course student feedback opportunity
Mid-course staff feedback
End of course feedback from students and staff
Learner stakeholder participation on QA groups

Secondary research data can be gathered through desk review of documentation, including the following:

Ongoing learner and Learning Practitioner evaluations gathered within centres/colleges
Meeting minutes
Learner council meeting minutes
End of term/programme evaluations
Certification rates

Principles associated with the gathering of Learner and Staff Feedback

The Quality Council devises a cyclical schedule for gathering feedback in consultation with the sub-groups for governance of quality and other key stakeholders responsible for management of programmes. Personnel will be assigned to ensure: -

- Consistent and transparent processes for the collection of learner feedback, across services and within centres
- Provision of clear information about the purposes and expected use of feedback collected to all stakeholders, including centre management

- Permission and consent should be sought from prospective participants regarding the use of data
- Data collection should be time bound, efficient and scheduled
- Learners should be given opportunities to give feedback on individual and collective experience
- Programme evaluation data from learners should be gathered at the end of the course
- Formative feedback on teaching (feedback that is collected solely for continual improvement) is recognised as an important component of advancing teaching practice.
- Giving feedback at other times e.g., mid-term, allows learners to express their feelings, to find out how they are finding the course and allows for mid-term changes in methodologies etc. which will, in turn, benefit the learner
- Feedback may be gathered more frequently from participants and other stakeholders where a new programme is being piloted or where a programme is being reviewed
- Learners should be encouraged to provide constructive feedback and be aware that their feedback will be taken seriously by KWETB FET services at local and regional level
- The outcome of data gathering should be reported on to demonstrate respect for the process as a key element of quality improvement

Procedure – 3.3.7 Gathering Feedback from Learners and Staff

1	The Quality Council should devise a cyclical schedule for gathering feedback in consultation with the sub-groups for governance of quality and other key stakeholders responsible for management of programmes.
2	The assigned personnel responsible should identify the primary and secondary research data required and the purpose of collection.
3	The assigned personnel responsible should identify stakeholders required to participate.
4	The assigned personnel responsible should identify data collection methods.

5	The assigned personnel responsible should devise data collection instruments and schedule of activities.
6	The assigned personnel responsible should communicate process to all stakeholders.
7	The assigned personnel responsible should deliver staff training and updating of methods of feedback collection if necessary.
8	The assigned personnel responsible should analyse and review data.
9	The assigned personnel responsible should consult with stakeholders to devise an action plan/inform the quality improvement plan.
10	The assigned personnel responsible should submit action plan to the relevant sub-group for governance of quality.
11	The relevant sub-group for governance of quality should assign personnel with responsibility for planning and implementing quality improvement plans with clear timelines for completion of action plan.
12	The assigned personnel with responsibility for planning and implementing quality improvement plans should monitor quality improvement actions and their completion.
13	The assigned personnel with responsibility for planning and implementing quality improvement plans should report on outcomes of the process and publish results on relevant platforms.

Scope

This procedure applies to all FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers. There is an integrated single policy, with integrated procedures for FET Provision and FET Provision-Second Providers.

Preamble

The need for corrective action may emerge as a result of a variety of different processes, such as Internal Verification; External Authentication; Results Approval; Programme Review; Learner Appeals; Staff meetings; and Learner and Staff feedback, for example. For the monitoring and review process to be effective, corrective actions identified must be recorded, tracked for progress, and impact recorded. These can be included in the Quality Improvement Plan if the action is associated with improvement to a policy or procedure.

Corrective actions are measures that need to be undertaken to ensure that the issue will not occur in future. When corrective action has been put in place, it means that the situation has been re-instated to its original state. - An Assessment Management Information System is in place to record apprentice achievement on new Apprenticeship Programmes (SOLAS Service Agreement / MIS Moodle March 2017).
- Funding Allocation Requests and Reporting System (FARR) – data from both the NCC and Learner Database are transferred to FARR which is used for SOLAS reporting.

Learner records may comprise of some or all of the following information:

- Expressions of Interest Forms
- Learner Details Form
- Class Registrar
- Parental/Guardian Consent Forms
- Interview records
- Registration forms
- Eligibility documentation (for example, birth certs)

Policy on Learner Engagement in Assessment and Assessor Grading of Learner Effort

Purpose

To provide continuity and clarity for both learners and learning practitioners, this policy outlines the approach to grading effort in line with QQI requirements. It ensures that assessments are designed to capture all Minimum Intended Module Learning Outcomes (MIMLOs) and that learners are fully informed about the expectations and criteria for their assessments.

Policy Statement

Learners must be provided with the opportunity to complete the assessments, and it is the Learning Practitioner's responsibility to devise assessment instruments (e.g. project and assignment briefs, examination papers, etc.), and marking schemes, consistent with the assessment techniques and assessment criteria

Learning Practitioners must ensure that each assessment task is mapped to specific MIMLOs as outlined in the module descriptor and component specification. Assessment briefs must contain clear instructions regarding the MIMLOs being assessed and the marks allocated Learner evidence must be submitted for all assessment techniques and a minimum mark of 50% must be achieved for all assessment techniques in order that the learner can pass the module. It is the learning practitioner's responsibility to devise assessment briefs and marking schemes to ensure that learners are assessed on all the required MIMLOs.

QQI Requirements on Learners achieving all Learning Outcomes

1. It is a QQI requirement that learners must meet the minimum intended learning outcomes before achieving a component award (Common Awards System, Restatement of Policy Guidelines 2014, Section 5.8).

2. QQI National Standards identify the knowledge, skills, and competence that must be evidenced by a learner to achieve a particular award. These standards are contained in each QQI Component/Award specification. Under Assessment Technique, it is stated that all learning outcomes must be assessed and achieved in accordance with the minimum intended learning outcomes (QQI Quality Assurance Assessment Guidelines for Providers, Revised 2013, Version 2 – revised 2018).
3. Within every QQI Component/Award Specification, under ‘Assessment Technique’, it states that all learning outcomes must be assessed and achieved.

Responsibilities

The Learning Practitioner is responsible for assessing and ensuring that learners demonstrate understanding of all MIMLOs for each assessment task.

The Quality Assurance team are responsible for monitoring compliance with this policy through KWETB authentication processes, and providing support as needed.

The Quality Assurance Subgroup are responsible for oversight of the implementation of KWETB Quality Assurance Framework, they have reviewed and approved all policies and procedures. Their oversight role ensures that policies comply with KWETB and QQI quality standards.

Action

To provide continuity and clarity for both learners and staff, this policy has been developed in line with grading learner to QQI requirements. This policy is effective on (1st September 2025).

Procedures within the Quality Framework will be amended to incorporate this Policy.

1.3.1 Development and Design of Assessment

- The Learning Practitioner should ensure that they review all learning outcomes, as specified in the module descriptor and that they understand the assessment criteria for each learning outcome.

1.3.3 Planning, Conducting and Concluding Assessment

- (Planning) The Learning Practitioner should ensure that their assessment plan aligns with all learning outcomes.
- (Conducting) The Learning Practitioner should review assessment briefs with learners, explaining requirement for all learning outcomes to be assessed.

1.3.9 Feedback to Learners

- The Learning Practitioner should provide ongoing feedback and support to help learners achieve all learning outcomes.

2.1.2 Learner Induction

- The Programme Coordinator should ensure that communication is given to learners in relation to learning outcomes and assessment criteria at the start of the course. The Learning Practitioner should re-enforce this information throughout the course.

2.2.5 Reasonable Accommodation in Assessment

- The Learning Practitioner should adapt the assessment, ensuring that all learning outcomes are met.

2.2.6 Compassionate Considerations

- The Programme Coordinator should ensure that if a learner is prevented from undertaking a specific assessment activity and therefore would not meet some of the learning outcomes, they should be given the opportunity to apply to defer the assessment to another occasion to ensure all learning outcomes are met.

Review

This policy will be reviewed annually.
